Another Route

We are looking for artists to be part of a new artistic fellowship called Another Route.

An artistic fellowship is where independent artists work together to improve their artistic skills and ideas.

You must be:

- based in England.

- making new work in circus, dance, live art or theatre.

We want artists who don't get many or any chances to work in other countries.

You can be an individual or a company.

How we choose who gets onto Another Route

We will be looking for these 5 things when we choose who will get onto Another Route.

1. Excellent new work

We want someone who makes excellent new work.

It could be:

- circus.
- dance.
- live art.
- theatre.

2. Ready to work

You or your company should be independent.

You may work with other organisations, but you must show that you have run projects yourself.

3. Interested in working in other countries

You have to show that working in another country is important for you.

You don't have to already have worked with people in other countries, but you must show that you are interested in this.

You must also show that you are interested in how different countries work together.

4. Suitable for working in different countries

You must make work that is suitable to be shown in different countries.

People in other countries should be able to connect with your work.

5. Little or no experience of working abroad before

You must have had very little chance to work in other countries before.
